

LEEN TIMES

About 5 years ago the tanalising treatment of fencing materials changed. Instead of stakes and posts lasting 15-20 years in the ground- they now last about 5 years! This has a dramatic effect on the economics of fencing (we have perhaps 40 miles of it!) and once again the wheel turns! Sweet Chestnut is coming back into use-This is a traditional coppice timber that performed many fencing functions in the past. Thankfully we have some on the farm and will be planting a lot more in future.

We finished the Litter Pick! Over a 10-week period over 200 volunteers picked the rubbish out of 109 miles of the rivers Lugg and Arrow. 650 bags and large items of it-over 50 tons moved! A tremendous effort. (including a lot of local help)- Thank you. Hopefully the rivers and streams will now stay cleaner.

During my time in the river I have been able to witness the Lampreys spawning. These are Eel like fish that have a sucker instead of a mouth.

A group of perhaps 20 Brook Lampreys (these are perhaps 6" long) are commonly seen in the river around Pembridge, moving small pebbles from to an area about the size of a tea plate to cover their spawn. I have seen the River Lampreys (About 12" in length and as thick as a finger) grouped together lower down moving stones up to tennis ball size. In the Wye the Sea Lampreys (2 feet+ and as thick as a child's wrist) after hitching a lift up the river on the Salmon, have the uneasy habit of occasional clamping onto a wading boot to try to move that!

Wild life news: Red Kites seen around the village again. A Sparrow Hawk holding a Little Owl down on the ground being attacked by its mate-when disturbed all 3 flying off, apparently unharmed! The Ermine Moths have been busy in the hedges shrouding the Spindle in their gossamer. Himalayan Balsam seriously frosted-Good! A Grass snake in the car!

The school have raised some baby Salmon (alvelins) from eggs in the gravel in their fish tank. These have been safely released into the river on the Village Green to, hopefully, return in 4 years time as the huge fish we see spawning. Let me know of anything interesting around the village.

YOUNG COUPLES NEW VENTURE

Tom and Bonnie packed their bags and have moved up from Devon to open "a Cook's Kitchen" restaurant and tea rooms. The restaurant is located next to Dunkertons Cider Mill and is in a beautiful barn looking out onto our lovely Herefordshire countryside, a truly idyllic setting. The menu changes daily according to the produce that Tom, the chef, can source locally. The couple are passionate about their work and that is evident from the quality of food and service they give. Good Luck to them both!

Who's Nicked our 'A' Board ?

If anyone knows the whereabouts of the Parish Council's advertising 'A' board which has disappeared from outside the Shop by the steps to the Church in the last week or two, the Clerk would be pleased to hear from you.

A Parish Council information service for the people of Pembridge

EDITORIAL

Light nights, bright yellow fields, wildlife everywhere. It must be almost summer ! With the dry weather it's got a feel of 1976 about it.

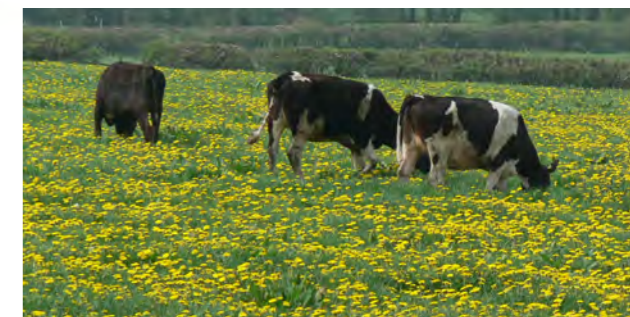

As we move into June the village show looms on the horizon. If you can be of help in any way, please give Julie Miffin a call. She will be delighted to hear from you.

The chairman is gracing us with his presence from now on with comments and insights into what the council is thinking and planning. Could be interesting. If you would like to put forward any ideas for ways to create more of a community spirit in the village please feel free to go along to the council meetings and put forward your idea. We seem to be slipping into a village made up of individual units that , while we live in close proximity, we very rarely get together as a group. Festivals, fairs, sports, book clubs, these are all part of the fabric of hundreds of villages up and down this country. It's a shame Pembridge can't develop the enthusiasm to replicate it. The village hall is ideal for a whole host of events. It just needs a group to put in the effort to get it off the ground.

Maybe it's just that we are all too busy with our lives to care any more , and there is no room in the 21st century for that old fashioned idea of community spirit, of giving up your time for the benefit of the village. If that's the case, it's only a matter of time before all us old busybodies will be dead ...and then what ?

Finally, I'm delighted we have yet another quality place to eat in the parish . 'A Cooks Kitchen' has just opened at Dunkertons. See back page for details

And you think it's hard bringing up kids !

Early summer, and the cows get a taste of the great outdoors

IT'S SHOWTIME !!

It's the time of year to think of Pembridge show. In the exhibit marquee there are 104 classes for you to enter. It would be great if those of you with vegetable gardens could find something to enter, don't worry if you have never entered before we will help you to display your exhibits. If you don't have vegetables you probably have flowers or pot plants. Get a schedule and find a class to suit you and help make the show more interesting. Here are a few of the classes showing the wide variety. 1 Potato - planted in any container, heaviest crop dug and weighed on show ground.

Runner beans - 3pods , Courgettes - 2 , Vase of sweet peas - 9 spikes, Pot plant Flower arrangements, Handicrafts, Photo classes - "In the garden" and "Holiday memories"

Baking and Childrens classes We are having our Pembridge museum again this year with the exhibition themed on the houses and buildings of Pembridge. You may find some old photos of your house.

A lot of people enjoy the beautiful things in the craft marquee.

There are a lot of other activities, the main ones are in the afternoon . There is a very entertaining dog display which children are able to join in. We will be able to sit and listen to the Radnor Valley band.

There are horse showing classes, gymkhana, jumping and dressage. The dog show has pedigree and novelty classes. I nearly forgot the Trotting races which always attract a good following. Apparently last year's races were filmed and shown on television.

We have a bar , burgers and a food marquee , so come early and have lunch with us.

HEREFORDSHIRE COUNCILLORS REPORT

Can I thank all residents who kindly supported me at the recent elections and returned me again as your County Councillor. It is a great honour and pleasure to be your representative on Herefordshire Council and I look forward to reporting back to the Parish over the next four years on local issues.

Many residents will remember Cllr Olwyn Barnett who was County Councillor for Pembridge in Hereford and Worcester days. Latterly she has continued as the councillor for Wigmore area and I am pleased to tell you she will be taking up the post of Chairman of the Herefordshire Council. She has been a strong representative for communities for over 30 years and secured for Pembridge our traffic calming gateways either end of the village in the early 1990s.

Herefordshire Year of the Orchard

CHAIRMAN'S CHAT

I have a shocking announcement to make: democracy in Pembridge is dead, a thing of the past, strangled by its old adversary apathy. The ghosts of yesteryear who fought for freedom and the right to vote must be spinning in their collective graves. What do I mean? Well it's simple. The Parish Council should be a democratically elected body of thirteen members. As things stand, it has nine members, none of whom has been elected. The nine members must co-opt a further four members. The electorate of Pembridge will then end up with a representative body of thirteen people without a vote ever having been cast. These thirteen people will hold office for a period of four years, throughout which they will be empowered to make decisions that will affect us all.

How can this have been allowed to happen? It can only be apathy. Apathy determines that out of an electorate of more than eight hundred, only nine people could be bothered to go through the fairly straightforward process of seeking an electoral nomination.

Only nine people care enough about the community to put their names forward to serve on the Parish Council and that's the thing that is really shocking.
